PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Do you require a box that will truly protect your cables, even in harsh conditions? This model has a high IP65 rating, which provides complete protection against dust and strong water jets. This makes it perfect for areas exposed to moisture, dirt or large temperature fluctuations – both outdoors and indoors.

Six cable glands enable quick and secure cable routing, simultaneously protecting them against tearing and moisture penetration. The box is made of durable plastic, which is highly impact-resistant: it does not crack, deform or leak, even under conditions of intensive use.

The grey, glossy surface blends in well with technical and industrial environments, and the square shape (100 × 100 × 50 mm) allows for convenient connection layout and tidy installation.
