PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Video monitor for expanding the CERES Full HD-set features a large 8-inch monitor with a fully touchscreen display, making it easy and intuitive to use, while the resolution of 1024x600px provides a clear image.

The intuitive 4-wire connection enables self-installation, and the electric door strike with a maximum current consumption of 350mA, powered directly from the outdoor unit, reduces the number of cables running to the wicket.

The monitor allows wicket and gates to be controlled via the screen. The answering machine function allows a visitor to leave a message in the absence of the household members, and the internal memory allows video material to be recorded and photos to be taken of the event and saved to the internal memory or microSD card.

The device has 6 different melodies with volume control, giving the possibility of assigning an individual call tone to each outdoor unit or intercom.

The set can be expanded with an additional monitor (max. 4 per set) and installed between the floors of a large house. With the additional monitors, the intercom will help to establish a connection, thus facilitating the communication of householders within the building.

The monitor measures 214x153mm and is made of plastic in black and silver. It is designed for surface mounting.
