PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The ventilation grille intended to be mounted on the ceiling – the shape of the openings directs the airflow straight. Unlike grilles designed for walls, where the louvres are at an angle so as not to cause a feeling of cold in the room.

However, this does not disqualify it as a wall grille. Thanks to its unique design, it fits into any room – whether it hangs from the ceiling or the wall.

It is possible to regulate the flow of ventilated air, making it very suitable for rooms with high humidity such as bathrooms or laundries. By varying the air flow as required, the cooling effect in the room is eliminated and comfort is improved. There is a discreet adjustment handle on the side of the grille, thus avoiding unsightly-looking and quickly getting dirty strings. The back of the grille is constructed with a cross latch system, thanks to which the grille can be mounted at the end of a ventilation duct of any shape within a span of 80-150 mm.

The versatility of the idea solves the problem of unusual diameters and uncertainty about size.
